NOW YOU CAN STOP WORMS BEFORE THEY DO ANY DAMAGE.

Dear Mr Sample,

With worms spreading faster than ever before, I wonder if you and your team are getting fed up with downloading patch updates. As you may know, your network is most vulnerable in the first 24 hours after a worm's release, when a patch is being developed for deployment. So I'm sure you'll be pleased to learn about a new product that enables your network to defend itself against attacks.

INTRODUCING CISCO SECURITY AGENT.

Cisco Security Agent (CSA) automatically detects and 'quarantines' worms, without using signatures or having any prior knowledge of the Exploit, until a suitable patch is installed. It stops worms before they do any damage.

CSA saves your business money by eliminating the need for 'panic' patch updates. It reduces helpdesk calls and impacted users' downtime. And it potentially eliminates IT time spent rebuilding affected desktops and servers. With a network that can defend itself, you'll enjoy greater peace of mind and be able to update worm patches at your convenience.

REGISTER FOR THE CISCO SECURE TOUR AT cisco.com/uk/securetour

We'd like to show you CSA in a special gathering of our most important customers: the fifth annual Cisco Secure Tour in London on 13th April. You'll be able to hear international security leaders present keynotes on business impact, business protection and risk management, supported by technologies including strong authentication, vulnerability assessments, managed security services, securing the OS, and URL filtering. You'll also have the opportunity to see Cisco's full portfolio of multi-layered security services. If you'd like to register for the Cisco Secure Tour, please go to cisco.com/uk/securetour

REGISTER FOR THE MYDOOM WEBINAR AT cisco.com/uk/mydoom

Also, please join us at Infosecurity 2004 (stand 620), 27th-29th April, at Olympia, London. Register now at infosec.co.uk/cisco and you'll be able to use your entry badge at our stand for a chance to win a Linksys Wireless Home Networking Kit.

If you would like to know more about CSA or any of Cisco's other security solutions, please call 00800 9999 0522.

Yours sincerely,
